Leazzer

Rent what you need; rent out you don't

Leazzer lets you rent a variety of items of domestic and commercial needs listed on app. It could be miniscule piece of furniture, a provisional car or kitchenware to manage sudden rush of guest. Conversely, when you have too many items to house list those items on the app and earn some extra bucks. Leazzer is open to businesses too. Office can rent surplus furniture or equipment to offices with shortage.

Rent what you need; rent out you don't

Exchange of good for money carries certain amount of risk. While developing the app, we added certain features to mitigate those risks. We made sure only cars with valid insurance can be rented. Moreover, for renting items other than a car, a user must deposit certain amount, which in case of a damage to rented item will be passed over to its owner.

Exclusive features:

- You can put almost any item from your home and garage on rent within the app
- Collect more points and become an elite: Silver to Gold, & Platinum
- Promo codes to help your privileged used to gain exclusive benefits
- Keep a tab of the items you have rented out

Tippy

Tip a restaurant attendant without paying cash

Tippy is a mobile app for iOS and Android that lets a diner to tip the waiter without cash. The tip-amount is credited directly to Tip receiver's bank account linked with a unique Tippy ID.

Tipping the waiter is quite tricky if the diner is not carrying cash with him. In many countries, it is very impolite of a diner not paying tips. Tippy lets you tip the waiter who served you from within the app. All you need is to know his Tippy ID. Tips paid from the app are transferred straight to the tippee's account.

Tippy

Tip a restaurant attendant without paying cash

Every Tippy app user receives a unique Tippy ID to make a tipper to identify him easily. Rather than his name, a waiter only has to pronounce his unique Tippy ID on being requested by a patron. The patron in order to tip him over the app, now only has to enter the Tippy ID and issue him the tip amount using a payment method allowed by the payment gateway.

Exclusive features:

- Received tips are credited to a bank Account
- An app user can become tipper and tippee from the same account
- Receive Notifications when you receive a new tip
- Catch the Tip History from the interactive Dashboard

Indiref

Make money by referring your friend for a job opening

Indiref is an app for job seekers in India that takes the prospects of job referrals to the next level by paying referrers bonus. Like every mobile job app, a person can search and apply for jobs within the app. The app sends timely job recommendations every now and then. A person can apply themselves for the job or can recommend a person he knows to be eligible to receive referral bonus.

Indiref

Make money by referring your friend for a job opening

Many a time a person receives a job proposal that is irrelevant to him. He either ignores the proposal or refer it to a friend out of goodwill. However, when a person recommends a job to a friend from Indiref, he receives more than goodwill. If the friend joins the job he recommended him for, he receives referral bonus.

Exclusive features

- Employers can preview a candidate's resume and download it in Portable Document Format
- A candidate can save the jobs that interests him and apply for them later
- Candidates and employers can sort their searches many parameter: sort you job search to 'industry', 'company', 'location', 'CTC', etc.
- Candidate receives calendar notification on any upcoming job interviews he applied for from the app

Peeach

Finding marketing freelancers was never this easy

The community job app connects experienced marketing freelancers with potential employers and vice-a-versa. Freelancers registered on the app can declare their availability and become searchable to potential employers. Employers looking for a freelancer for long as well as short term can shortlist suitable candidates and select the one with inbuilt video interview functionality.

Finding marketing freelancers was never this easy

While on the surface, it looks like there is an abundance of freelancers. Only an employer looking for freelancers for a project he accepted falling for the same misconception can understand the pain. Peech makes the whole concept of searching for freelancers as easy as “search and shortlist”. Employers can contact the shortlisted candidates with inbuilt app-to-app text or video interview functionality.

Exclusive features:

- Single app for Employers’ and Freelancers’ login
- Create a company profile to attract freelancers
- Interview freelancers over video chat within the app
- App suggests you potential freelancers

Peeach is available only for Australian Market

The eCommerce Marketplace App

You need to only look at one statistic for appreciating the huge market mobile e-commerce has become, and that is; In 2015, Mobile Commerce accounted for almost 30% of all US e-commerce sales. Naturally, when Emeka Anen dreamed of creating an e-commerce community driven by the love of rare sneakers and street-wear, he instantly thought: Mobile.

Formerly, known as InstaSneaks, Anen knew the app wasn't all that it could be. Realizing he needed a technical partner who not only understood his vision for the app, but could imbue it with his entrepreneurial spirit, he partnered with us.

He wanted better designs, efficiency, and above all, a cutting-edge forum where all sneakerheads could bond over (and profit from!) their passion for sneakers.

And, so we began by dubbing InstaSneaks, Throne!

Streetwear Collection

Showcasing our streetwear collection in one place was a bit of a challenge. Comprehensive layout for displaying collection under one roof was achieved by incorporating scrolls and other add-on features without compromising the app's performance.

Custom Camera

Inclusion of this interactive feature of letting the users click pictures of their products was sure to add fun. But the task of integrating multiple windows for a single product was well received by users as it enhances UX creatively.

Asalta's Testimonials

(few…)

- "You know in the world of software there are those that know software (let's call them 'geeks') and those who know people - that is to say they're concerned with the user's experience PLUS they are super people to work with.
  Arun is all three rolled into one - when you're working with Arun on a project:
  first you're working with someone who is simply great to work with second, you're working with someone who knows their 'stuff' third (and perhaps most importantly of all) you're working with someone who cares.

  It's a great - and all too rare - combination.

- "Asalta has provided our group of companies with outstanding, beyond expectation design and technical support which is the level of services unknown to us before. Their commitment of getting the "job" done, was beyond our initial expectations. Their effective turnaround time between job order, delivery of product and product support was phenomenal. Taken into account the project requirements to being delivered during the holiday season we can only comment the Company and its management to a job well done."
